

APPARATUS AND METHOD OF MAKING A SECURE CALL

ABSTRACT

[0056] A system of operating a wireless handset capable of making clear and secure calls is claimed. A secure call may be made by pressing a key for a predetermined amount of time. The handset enters a secure mode if the key is held for a time period greater than the predetermined amount of time. The handset enter is a clear mode if the key is held for a time period less than the predetermined amount of time.

10015996.121001